Description

Since 1943, BOYD mining consultants have provided advisory services to a diverse mix of domestic and international clientele: mining companies, investors, financial institutions, consumers, attorneys, governmental agencies, and more.
Our mining background serves as the basis for all of our advisory services, and is well-suited for client situations – in coal, frac sand, industrial minerals, metals and non-metals. BOYD's professional staff is comprised of specialists with decades of experience in the principal aspects of the mining and minerals industry: geology, reserves, mining operations (surface and underground mining), mineral processing, financial analysis, valuation, markets, transportation, environmental matters, etc. Our senior professionals have the requisite training, education, and experience to provide advisory services to our clients on an ongoing basis.
John T. Boyd Company locations include United States (Pittsburgh and Denver), Australia, Peoples Republic of China, and Colombia.
